European integration is a complex journey that requires the coordination of many actors, such as the government, the National Assembly, the judiciary, political parties, civil society and even ordinary citizens, the National Council Vice President for European Integration, Taulant Balla, said.

Balla attended the Council meeting, where they discussed the progress made and the challenges under the Political Criterion, Chapter 23, with an emphasis on the 15 points of the European Union Council Decision of 25 March 2020 on the opening of negotiations.

He said that it is a completely wrong approach if we believe that the will of the government or only the majority would be enough in this regard.
