A resolution on "Solidarity with the victims of the Khojaly Massacre" has been adopted within the 48th session of the Council of Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) in Islamabad.

The resolution strongly condemns the mass atrocities committed by Armenia against the Azerbaijani civilian population and military personnel in February 1992 in Khojaly and other occupied territories of Azerbaijan.

Member States are called upon to make the necessary efforts to locally and internationally recognize the crimes committed during the conflict in Khojaly and other occupied territories of Azerbaijan, such as war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide.
