Kazakh First Deputy Foreign Minister Akan Rakhmetullin and U.S. Assistant Secretary for the Bureau of South and Central Asian Affairs Donald Lu held the sixth meeting of the Enhanced Strategic Partnership Dialogue (ESPD) between Kazakhstan and the United States on May 31 in Washington, D.C., reported the ministry's press service.

Rakhmetullin emphasized the importance of developing infrastructure projects and transportation routes, key elements of bilateral trade and economic interaction. During the talks, the parties also discussed cooperation in the fields of energy and critical minerals.

Lu noted the steady progress of the bilateral partnership, paying particular attention to the projects launched following the C5+1 summit last September.
