The Turkish foreign minister will represent President Recep Tayyip Erdogan at the South-East European Cooperation Process (SEECP) Summit of Heads of State and Government in Skopje, North Macedonia's capital, on Thursday.

According to diplomatic sources, Hakan Fidan will first attend the SEECP Foreign Ministers Meeting in Skopje before representing President Erdogan at the Heads of State and Government Summit.

This year's summit declaration, as is customary, will emphasize a shared desire for cooperation on all regional issues.
