Azerbaijani President Ilham Aliyev on Monday expressed Bakus appreciation for the EUs mediation in peace negotiations between his country and neighboring Armenia.

A statement by the Azerbaijani presidency said that Aliyev held talks with visiting EU Council President Charles Michel in the country's capital, during which he underlined the blocs mediation role amid ongoing negotiations between Baku and Yerevan.

The statement said Aliyev emphasized that it was during Michels mediation that the structure of the negotiations and the agenda of important directions between Azerbaijan and Armenia were formed.
