Iraqi Prime Minister Mohammed Shia al-Sudani stressed on Thursday that relations between Iraq and Egypt constitute a solid foundation for bilateral partnership.

The Prime Minister's media office stated in a statement received by the Iraqi News Agency (INA), that "Prime Minister Mohammed Shia al-Sudani and Egyptian Prime Minister Mustafa Madbouly attended the Iraqi-Egyptian Economic Forum, which was held in Baghdad with the participation of the Iraqi and Egyptian Chambers of Commerce, and the attendance of more than 300 businessmen from the two countries, and was dedicated to discussing opportunities for joint cooperation in various fields."

Al-Sudani pointed out, during his speech at the forum, to "the depth of historical and civilizational relations between Iraq and Egypt, and the social and economic ties that constitute a solid foundation for bilateral partnership and mutual opportunities, especially for the private sector to work in all economic fields, whether in Iraq or in Egypt."
