
KAZAKHSTAN EYES ROLE IN TAPI GAS PIPELINE

- 31.01.2025

Daryo (30 January 2025)

Kazakhstan has expressed interest in joining the Turkmenistan-Afghanistan-Pakistan-India (TAPI) gas pipeline project, a move that could ultimately facilitate Russias entry into the long-debated initiative according to Eldaniz Gusseinov, a columnist for Daryo and a Non-Resident Research Fellow at the Haydar Aliyev Center for Eurasian Studies.

Eldaniz noted that the countrys Ministry of Energy announced that state-owned company Kazakhgas is engaged in negotiations to participate in the project, which aims to transport Turkmen gas to South Asia.
