Magdalena Grono, European Union (EU) Special Representative for the South Caucasus and the crisis in Georgia, held talks in Ankara on the South Caucasus, she informed on social media.

Also, Grono positively assessed her visit to the Turkish capital city.

"Concluding a positive visit to Ankara. Grateful to counterparts in Türkiye for open and constructive exchanges on South Caucasus and regional topics, including Azerbaijan - Armenia normalization, conflict-related issues in Georgia, and Türkiye - Armenia normalization," the EU diplomat wrote on X. Also discussed connectivity and regional cooperation opportunities, which may benefit South Caucasus countries, Türkiye, Central Asia and the EU.
