Aleksandar Vucic says attack was carried out by former state security employee seeking to sow public panic

Serbian President Aleksandar Vucic said on Wednesday that the attack outside the National Assembly in Belgrade was a terrorist act with political motives, carried out by a former State Security employee who used a firearm to create general danger.

Vucic, in an emergency address from the Palace of Serbia, identified the suspect as Andelkovic Vladan, born in 1955 in Belgrade, and said the man has legally owned a pistol [] Crvena zastava M99—since 1993.
