A trilateral working plan for military cooperation between Israel, Greece and the Greek Cypriot Administration of Southern Cyprus (GCASC) was signed last week in the GCASC, Israeli authorities said.

According to a statement from the Israeli military, the trilateral plan was signed alongside bilateral working plans for 2026 between the Israeli army and the Greek army, as well as between the Israeli army and GCASC forces.

An Israeli delegation led by Amit Adler, head of the Israeli army's International Cooperation Division, met with Greek and Greek Cypriot military counterparts in Nicosia as part of the annual joint meeting among defense officials of the three sides.
