Artificial intelligence (AI)-powered robotics, military applications and brain-computer research took center stage at Indias AI Impact Summit.

The weeklong summit, inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday, has brought together representatives from more than 100 countries. It is being promoted as the first such global AI gathering held in the Global South.

Technology leaders including Google CEO Sundar Pichai, OpenAI CEO Sam Altman and Anthropic CEO Dario Amodei attended, alongside world leaders French President Emmanuel Macron and Brazilian President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva.
