I have arrived in Astana for the start of a visit to three important partners: Kazakhstan, Tajikistan, and Georgia, President of Asian Development Bank, Masato Kanda, wrote on his LinkedIn account, Trend reports.

In Astana, Kanda was welcomed by Vice-Minister of Finance and ADB Alternate Governor Dauren Kengbeil and Vice-Minister of National Economy Assan Darbayev. The sides discussed the strong partnership between Kazakhstan and ADB, including the role of public-private partnerships in supporting market economy development.

"We discussed the strong partnership between Kazakhstan and ADB and issues, including the importance of public-private partnerships in supporting the development of market economies.
