Turkmenistan and the European Union engaged in discussions regarding potential cooperation with the European Investment Bank (EIB) in the transport infrastructure sector, Trend reports via the Turkmen Embassy in Belgium.

The discussions took place between Turkmenistans Ambassador to Brussels, Sapar Palvanov, and Deputy Director-General of the European Commissions Directorate-General for Mobility and Transport, Maia Bakran Marchich.

In addition to transport infrastructure, the talks also explored broader opportunities for collaboration with international financial institutions and development banks to support transport projects, enhance regional connectivity, and strengthen logistics and transport corridors linking Central Asia to Europe.
